Montgomery has a dedication to the craft, enthusiasm, and genuine care for his clients; by knowing his destinations first-hand and by heart, he can offer creativity and customization that clients won't find elsewhere – from a week-long private adventure through the Andes to a day of family fun in Cartagena that includes a treasure hunt inside a castle's tunnels and a cruise on a cannon-ringed schooner in Cartagena Bay, with everyone dressed as pirates. When his clients travel, doors open, special requests are granted, and magic happens.
